DETAILED ACTION

Applicant is reminded of the proper content of an abstract of the disclosure.

A patent abstract is a concise statement of the technical disclosure of the patent and should include that which is new in the art to which the invention pertains. If the patent is of a basic nature, the entire technical disclosure may be new in the art, and the abstract should be directed to the entire disclosure. If the patent is in the nature of an improvement in an old apparatus, process, product, or composition, the abstract should include the technical disclosure of the improvement. In certain patents, particularly those for compounds and compositions, wherein the process for making and/or the use thereof are not obvious, the abstract should set forth a process for making and/or use thereof. If the new technical disclosure involves modifications or alternatives, the abstract should mention by way of example the preferred modification or alternative.

The abstract should not refer to purported merits or speculative applications of the invention and should not compare the invention with the prior art.

Where applicable, the abstract should include the following:

- (1) if a machine or apparatus, its organization and operation;
- (2) if an article, its method of making;
- (3) if a chemical compound, its identity and use;
- (4) if a mixture, its ingredients;
- (5) if a process, the steps.

Extensive mechanical and design details of apparatus should not be given.

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it fails to mention the steps, not least of all the dehydrating or the adjusting. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed. There are no apparatus claims at present.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The definitions on page 5 of the specification are indefinite - thus the terms in the claims are indefinite. It is unclear as to who it is "known" and at what time. A potential infringer would not know if the claims are limited to those that are known at the time of invention, the date of issue or the date of potential infringement.

It is unclear what is meant by an "environment." Claim 1, line 8 indicates that when a gas composition is changed, one still has the same environment, but it is an adjusted "environment". However, line 9 indicates that when one changes the composition, one establishes a new environment. To put it another way: it would be unclear to one of ordinary skill if one can avoid infringement merely by adjusting an environment (without creating a new environment), or if it is possible to avoid infringement by creating a new environment which is neither oxygen-rich nor oxygen-deficient without adjusting the oxygen stoichiometry of the first environment. To put it in still another way: Examiner cannot determine whether an environment is a new environment, or whether it is still the same environment that is merely adjusted.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-17 are would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.

Art Unit: 1731

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

As indicated by Applicant in the paper of 1-14-04, the transitional phrases of the claims is not intended to be a Markush group: i.e. an alternative grouping. And as indicated in the paragraph spanning pages 4-5 of the of the prior Office action, the literal interpretation of the language requires both of the features. Since there is no disagreement with this interpretation, and since Applicant has not indicated any other interpretation of the transitional phrases, it is deemed that applicant agrees that the non-Markush phrases are inclusive phrases which require each of the elements recited. The prior art does not teach dehydrating with the combination of a chlorine-containing, a fluorine-containing gases and carbon monoxide. The prior art uses only one, sometimes two of the gases.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 1-14-04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

It is argued that the standard for "known" is "one skilled in the art of optical fiber manufacturing to be used for doping and/or dehydration that contain either fluorine or chlorine, and that it is only gases known at the time of the invention. There is no basis for this particular scope. Applicant is not permitted to newly define/set forth what is meant by "known".

Art Unit: 1731

Furthermore, the courts have held that claim interpretation is based on one of "ordinary skill" and not one "skilled" as suggested by Applicant.

In reviewing a claim for compliance with 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, the examiner must consider the claim as a whole to determine whether the claim apprises one of ordinary skill in the art of its scope and, therefore, serves the notice function required by 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph >by providing clear warning to others as to what constitutes infringement of the patent<. See, e.g., Solomon v. Kimberly-Clark Corp., 216 F.3d 1372, 1379, 55 USPQ2d 1279, 1283 (Fed. Cir. 2000). See also In re Larsen, No. 01-1092 (Fed. Cir. May 9, 2001) (unpublished)

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
